ABSTRACT

This directory was compiled to facilitate communication among minorities in the professoriate and others interested in the role of minorities in educational administration. To obtain the names of minority professors in educational administration, letters were sent to the 49 member institutions of the University Council for Educational Administration and 318 nonmember institutions with degree programs in educational administration. Followup mailings were then sent to the 193 minority group members whose names had been submitted by their department chairpersons, and of those 193, 34 responded asking to be placed in the directory. Included are names, addresses, phone numbers, and teaching interests. (Author)

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL FOR EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Summer, 1978

The University Council for Educational Administration (UCEA) is a non-profit organization whose mission is to improve the professional preparation of educational administrators. In recent years, the organization, with the help of a specially appointed Task Force, has initiated a number of activities bearing upon the advancement of women and minorities in educational leadership positions.

In the Summer of 1977 we published a Directory of Women Professors of Educational Administration. Now we are happy to present a Directory of Minority Professors of Educational Administration. This Directory was compiled to facilitate communication among minorities in the professoriate and others interested in the role of minorities in educational administration. We hope that you find the Directory useful in its beginning form.

To obtain the names of minority professors in educational administration, letters were sent to the 49 UCEA member institutions and 318 non-member institutions with degree programs in educational administration. Follow-up mailings were then sent to the 193 minority group members whose names had been submitted by their department chairpersons, and of those 193, 34 responded asking to be placed in the Directory.

Since we may want to update the Directory sometime in 1979, we would appreciate any suggestions you would have with regard to additional names which should be added, corrections which need to be made, or additional information which might be included. You will note that an additional form for the provision of information is included at the back of the Directory.

May we also thank the professors who provided information necessary for the development of this Directory. We hope very much that it will prove helpful to the field of educational administration.

Cordially yours,

Jack A. Culbertson
Executive Director
